MIDDLE WEEKEND PACKAGES

PRICES START FROM $1,145<sup>PP</sup>

The Middle Weekend is one of the most popular times to visit the Australian Open with the tournament action moving into the 3rd and 4th Rounds.

As well as the on court action, this is where all of the entertainment comes into its own. There's Grand Slam Oval with interactive tennis experiences, Coopers Beer Garden and fantastic food & drink in the Paris Quarter.

The AO Ballpark Stage will be on again featuring kids live shows, along with the Hot Shots mini-courts and the all new Fan Zone. To top it all off the AO Open Sessions featuring international and local musicians will take to the live stage to finish most days off.

The Australian Open is now much more than just a tennis tournament, it is all about entertainment and the organisers have got everything covered for you.

QUARTER FINALS PACKAGES

PRICES START FROM $1,188<sup>PP</sup>

Quarter Finals time at the Australian Open can see an outsider's unexpected run either continue with a huge upset or fall at the hands of a hot favourite. Either way it always throws up some fantastic action and is always two days not to miss.

In 2017 in the women's draw, Americans Venus Williams, Coco Vandeweghe and Serena Williams all made it through to the semis. They were joined by unseeded Mirjana Lucic-Baroni who provided the feel good moment of the tournament making the semis 17 years after her last Grand Slam® semi final appearance.

On the men's side fan favourites Roger Federer and Rafael Nadal progressed with straight set wins and were joined by Grigor Dimitrov and former champion Stan Wawrinka.

Tue 23 Jan - Quarter Finals
Wed 24 Jan - Quarter Finals

24-27 JAN 2018 SEMI FINALS PACKAGES

PRICES START FROM $1,276<sup>PP</sup>

We're down to the last four players on both the men's and women's sides as they battle out the semifinals to book their place in Australian Open 2018 Final.

Last year, in the women's semi finals it was the Williams' sister show as tournament favourite Serena booked her place in the final with a straight sets demolition of Mirjana Lucic-Baroni, while older sister Venus had to overcome dropping the 1st set to Coco Vandeweghe to eventually win her way through in 3 sets.

In the men's section, the 1st semi final saw an all-Swiss contest with Federer prevailing in 5 epic sets against Wawrinka, while in the other semi Rafael Nadal also took 5 sets of intense tennis to win through against Grigor Dimitrov.

FINALS WEEKEND PACKAGES

PRICES START FROM $1,052<sup>PP</sup>

Secure your seat to witness who will be crowned champion in both the men's and women's finals of Australian Open 2018. The Australian Open is the first Grand Slam® on offer and brings the best out of all players. The weekend is always guaranteed to be a sell out as tennis fans from all over Australia and worldwide, pack our Rod Laver Arena.

Last year, In the men's final it was an absolute classic between two of the greatest players to ever grace the court - Roger Federer and Rafael Nadal. The pair put on over 3.5 hours of pulsating action before Federer eventually took the win 6-3 in the 5th set.

In the women's final, it was an all Williams match as sisters Serena and Venus faced off for the first time since the 2009 Wimbledon Final. Unfortunately for Venus it was the same result - a straight sets win by younger sister and modern day great Serena, taking her number of wins in Melbourne to seven.
